Cresceus Breaks Record

Fastest Mile Made on Wichita Track

MAJOR DELMAR AND LOU DILLON GO THIS AFTERNOON.

A LITTLE DOUBT IS EXPRESSED

Over the Great Feat Credited to Cresceus and Ketcham Receives a Flattering Offer.

Wichita, Kansas, Oct. 20.—George H. Ketcham, owner of Cresceus, who broke the world's trotting record yesterday, is angry over the statement that the record is not a legitimate one. He and officers of the Kansas State Fair association deny that the track is 180 feet short as charged and signify their intention of having the track measured.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 20.—There is no longer any doubt that Major Delmar and Lou Dillon, king and queen of the trotting turf, will start in the gold cup contest this afternoon. The feature is such an attractive one that horsemen are pouring into this city from every point, promising a record-breaking attendance. The mare is easily the favorite in the betting with general odds about 5 to 3.

Considerable doubt is expressed by horsemen here over the feat credited to Cresceus at Wichita, Kan., yesterday, and the following telegram has been sent George H. Ketcham by Murray Howe:

"Every one is under the impression that the Memphis track is faster than ever. The Memphis Trotting association will give you $5,000 to beat two minutes here under the same conditions which prevailed when Lou Dillon made her two-minute record at Readville, the trial to take place during our meeting."

Wichita, Kas., Oct. 20.—Cresceus, Mr. George H. Ketcham's sorrel stallion, once more established himself as "king of trotters," when Monday afternoon he not only circled the Wichita track in the remarkably fast time of 1:59 3-4, beating the two minutes mark set by Major Delmar and Lou Dillon, but he did it without the wind shield, which has come to be looked upon as almost a necessity for record-breakers.

The day was an ideal one, and the track was in perfect condition, while the horse himself was never better.

There was just a trace of a breeze blowing from the south which caught the horse in the face when he turned into the back stretch, or it would have caught him but for the timber which lies along the west and south sides of the track.

When he turned into the stretch the wind helped him. A. C. Jordan of Lyons, a starter of twelve years' experience in association stands, was the starter and also timekeeper.

The judges were S. B. Amidon, B. B. Herndon and George S. Freeman, all responsible men and true sportsmen.

Watches were held in the grand stand and caught the time as low as 1:58, others two minutes.

At 2:30 Cresceus appeared on the track and was given a couple of miles to limber up, after which Mr. Ketcham sent him a mile in 2:15, announcing to friends later that it was the fastest mile he had ever been able to drive without company.

It was about 3:15 when the horse came out for the final test.

He was anxious as was shown from the fact that when first he scored down for the word he lost his stride and ran under the wire, an unusual thing for him, and noted by his driver as a good sign.

The next time he came down like a whirlwind, with Mike the Tramp, his ever faithful running mate just nosing ahead.

Around the first turn he sped at terrific speed, making the first quarter in 30 flat.

There was a cheer when the half was reached in :59 3-4 seconds, and when he got to the three quarters in 1:30 there was cheer after cheer, for he already had trotted the last quarter over the same track in 29 seconds at a previous trial.

At the home stretch, the runner drew away from him and the great stallion went the rest of the journey alone.

Just at the south end of the grand stand, about 100 feet from the wire, he struck his knee and lost his stride. Two bobbles and he had caught again and went under the wire trotting like a machine.

When he returned to the front of the stand he was given an ovation. President Irwin of the association and other admiring friends seized Driver Ketcham and carried him on their shoulders into the judge's stand.

"I might have waited ten years and not have found conditions as perfect,"

The Wonderful Cresceus.

Cresceus is the 8-year-old son of Robert McGregor and has been cared since he was three years old. No one except owner George Ketcham of Toledo has ever driven him in a race of trial against the watch. Together they have toured the country and have performed before countless thousands.

Cresceus became world renowned in July, 1901, when he, over the Cleveland track, set the world's trotting record at 2:02 3-4. A week later he came to Columbus and reduced the mark to 2:02 1-4, where it remained until Lou Dillon came out this year as the first 2:00 trotter.

Cresceus is not only the first trotter to beat the 2:00 mark, but he holds the record for two miles, 4:17, made over the Memphis track last October, and is the champion trotter for half-mile tracks.

Since Lou Dillon and Major Delmar have forged to the front no one took Cresceus seriously and everyone, except George Ketcham, believed that 2:02 1-4 was the speed limit of the great horse.

THE GREAT CRECEUS GOES A MILE IN 1:59 3-4.

"ELIJAH" DOWIE'S MEETINGS A FAILURE

Not Enough Cash Coming in to Pay the Expenses—Dowie Hissed by His Hearers Then the Prophet Flew Into Rage About Plot to Stampede His Meetings.

New York, Oct. 20.—"Elijah" Dowie, after heaping vituperation on a large audience last night, was soundly hissed a dozen times. His guards escorted him to his carriage as he left the garden.

It was an exciting scene in the garden.

"You're a pack of thieves, the lot of you," cried Dowie, in a rage, after having made desperate efforts to keep his audience from melting away. "You are slaves of the bottle—stinkpots. You're a noisy rabble. I don't want you, you thieves."

He was driven frantic with rage and raved about an alleged plot to stampede his meetings.

He has a strong aversion to the contrasts drawn between the way he lives and the mode of existence of the city by the host.

"I am not so expensive as the newspapers make me," said the general over-ear this morning. "Why, I even walked over here this morning."

A woman with a broken elbow could throw a stone from the Fifth Avenue hotel to Madison Square Garden.

Having learned of a few scores of the host at the meeting to day, Elijah went off with a discourse on the sin of blaspheming, but soon forgot his text and began to drill members of the host for tonight's performance.

As Dowie has now approached the stage where he may be expected to say anything. Appellations of "stinkpot," "liars," "hell-bounds" are among the mildest forms used.

"It's all a big out and nothing coming in," solemnly cried Dowie this morning, while reading his treasurer's report. Great tears welled into the eyes of the "prophet" and then rolled in cascades down the prophetic beard.

The attendance at the garden has been disappointing. It costs $3,000 a day for the rent of the garden and nowhere near that amount has come in.

A large crowd is expected tonight.

An Animal Story For Little Folks

Mary and Her Little Lamb

You have all heard of Mary, haven't you? I mean the Mary that had the little lamb. Of course you have, and I am going to tell you a story about her and her lamb that you have never heard before.

Well, once upon a time Mary thought that she would go into the fields and catch some of the beautiful butterflies that were flitting about from flower to flower. She had a net that her big brother had made for her, and with this she tried to capture the pretty creatures that shined about in the air among the flowers.

But, mercy me, they were all so shy they never allowed her to get within reach of them.

"I do believe that bad lamb is frightening the butterflies away!" cried

RAN AWAY AS FAST AS HE COULD.

Mary, stamping her pretty little foot on the ground. "I shall just punish him severely for it!"

But the lamb saw that she was angry and ran away as fast as he could, with Mary right at his heels.

You would never have thought that a little girl could run so fast, and it was unfortunate for her that she did, for suddenly the lamb came to a pool of water, and he stopped right still as suddenly as he could.

What happened to Mary? She went heels over head over the top of the lamb and plunged up to her waist in the pool of water.

Of course she got wet to the skin. "But it taught me a lesson," she said the next day. "I shouldn't have wanted to punish that dear little lamb of mine."

And she gave him a real tight hug and made up.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

DOWIE'S BIG CRUSADE

Plan of Zion City's Leader to Evangelize the World.

NEW YORK BUT THE BEGINNING.

Elijah H. Explains Object of Invasion of the Metropolis by Zion Restoration Host—Has Eight Thousand Volunteers Under Vow to Obey. Only Three Thousand Taken to New York—Names a Prince as His Supporter—Some of Dowie's Characteristics.

For the first time in nine years John Alexander Dowie, the founder of Zion City and general overseer of the Christian Catholic Church of Zion, talked with a reporter of the Chicago Tribune about his plans to evangelize the world. He said the invasion of New York by the restoration host was only the beginning. Hugh Stuart Fullerton, who obtained the interview in Dowie's own home in Zion City, declares that the Zionist leader gave him in confidence proof that a prince, who will some day be "a power in a great nation," is a follower of the Zion City prophet.

When asked what he expected to accomplish on the New York trip, Dowie replied:

"God alone can answer that question. My hopes are high, but how much God wishes me to accomplish I cannot say. We have prepared ourselves for this invasion. We have trained our hosts in the work. All that we, as human beings, can do we have done. The harvest is with God. If he wills it—and the answer to my prayers leads me to believe our visitation is under divine guidance—we will accomplish great things—great things that will lead on to greater things."

"After New York?" I began.

"New York is but the beginning. After New York the world. Zion shall ascend the steps of thrones and will dictate to monarchs and presidents of nations and tell them that the law of God must be obeyed everywhere."

"You wanted me out of Chicago, but I love Chicago. Perhaps Chicago may yet be saved. The idea of spreading Zion over the world was in me when in our little No. 1 tabernacle down in Sixty-second street. We began the fight then. I did not know how far God wanted me to go forward with the work. He has sustained me thus far, and now I believe he means me to do more."

"It has been a long fight against unfair enemies. We have preached and practiced peace, and we have suffered blows. We have bowed to law when the courts were poisoned against us. We have preached obedience to the law even when it was wrong, and we have won. I believe God meant us to win. Down in the little tabernacle in Chicago when there were but few followers I saw Zion City thrown on the canvas of the future. Now I see great cities on the American coast of the Atlantic ocean and on the Pacific ruled by the law of God."

"Next January I hope to start around the world with a little company of four. My wife will start with a party in the opposite direction. We will learn much, and we will see many of our followers in other lands. Until that trip is ended no further definite plans can be announced."

Suddenly his face saddened.

"You cannot," he said, "you cannot see as I see. Christ to me is so real. He is so near. To me he is more real than to you and nearer. This world seems so pitiful, so sad, with the people so steeped in sin, so sunk in darkness, with his dear face to light it. Time seems so short. Naturally and calmly, in thirty years at the outside, I must pass away, perhaps in a week or a month or a year, and there is so much to be done."

"What provision have you made for death?" I asked. "Who will be your successor and what will be done with the money?"

"My successor is provided; God has one ready to take my place. I have made a will as regards the disposition of the Zion estate, which I legally own and absolutely control. All Zion knows what is in it."

"The will briefly stipulates that 95 per cent of all the buildings of John Alexander Dowie shall go to the church, the other 5 per cent to his family, and of that 5 per cent a certain amount is to be given to the church each year."

"I live well," explained Dowie. "I enjoy many comforts, but I do not spend my income, and I give a great part of that to the church. I make a generous allowance to my wife and to my son, and they give liberally to the church. My personal fortune is comfortable. I have made it legitimately. I have secured no one."

"We are not socialists here in Zion. Every person is paid according to his worth and services. My work is heavy, my responsibility great, our enterprises have been successful, and in proportion to my services I am not overpaid."

"Considering that, I do not see why Chicago is opposed to me. I and my followers spend millions of dollars in Chicago. We did spend more when we were located there, for thousands came and did their shopping there, but Chicago drove us out, and if Chicago does not look out we'll quit buying there altogether."

"You were a bad boy, and you lost many good stories by being naughty. Why, I have a first page 'scare' head, double loaded story right in my house now. If you will promise 'pon honor not to print it, I'll prove it to you.'"

"And, having killed my hope of a 'scare' he told me, and he had it too. He showed me the Zion's connection with a live prince. That prince is a follower of Dowie, and some day he will be a great power in a great nation. I remembered then that Dowie had said, 'Zion shall ascend the steps of thrones.'"

Gradually I drew him back to the New York trip.

"We are not asking New York for anything," he continued. "We are offering every one in New York an opportunity to embrace the law of God. We ask nothing. Already we have platted New York and assigned to every commander of seventy and every captain of ten a district. The host has studied for months the special maps of New York in our tabernacle. We have trained the host in its work. We have in all 8,000 volunteers in all parts of the world under vow to obey should I call on them for service. Only 3,000 have been ordered to New York."

"Zion restoration host will visit every home in the city. The work will be hard in New York because of the high flat buildings, but Elder Lee, who is the recorder of the host, has perfected every plan. He will explain everything to you."

Afterward Elder Lee explained. I saw maps of New York in printed sections, and each section was allotted to a commander of seventy and subdivided among the captains of tens. Each morning while the host remains in New York it will attend the half past 6 o'clock morning services, then take breakfast, and each captain of ten will lead his party into his district. He will take a street and cover three sides of each block facing that street for many blocks. Having started his ten to work, the captain will station himself on the corner of the next block and perhaps hold a short service until that block is finished. If tall flat buildings delay part of the workers, the first arrivals at the captain's post will assist him in the service.

Dowie as a religious enthusiast, Dowie as a shrewd business man, Dowie as a home man, is impressive. In his home he is serene, calm and considerate. He admires his wife and has made her partner in everything. Nor is Overseer Jane Dowie a force to be overlooked in Zion. She is a motherly woman, calm eyed and peaceful, intelligent and devoted to her husband. In their family life they seem perfect.

Another revelation of Dowie's character was made later in his library. There, surrounded by books, he is at home, and the student shows out all over him. On the shelves of his library are works in Sanskrit, in the almost unknown by name languages of India, great volumes of Chinese writings, and these Dowie reads.

When he cannot read a language he either learns it or summons one of his followers, who are recruited from almost every race—and there are more than fifty nationalities represented in Zion City—and has it read to him. Dowie converses with his Chinese adherents intelligently and fluently. He is an authority on Chinese history and literature.

"Where does this man go to learn these things?" I asked of his right hand man later.

He told me Dowie works eighteen, twenty, sometimes twenty-four, hours a day, tireless, sleepless and sustained by his immense physical energy. He has worked as many as forty hours with scarcely a stop even for meals. He has preached and prayed all day and all evening and then, returning to his office, written all night to fill the editorial columns of the paper that Zion prints.

This work he will delegate to none, believing that most of his converts have been reached through Leaves of Healing.

Returning to the subject of the New York trip, Dowie said:

"The object of the campaign will be to preach the word of God as revealed to me as messenger of his holy covenant and to establish another tabernacle for the worship of God according to the Christian Catholic faith of Zion, the only true and authentic revelation of his divine will."

"I truly believe that the divine blessing will rest upon my efforts and that the church universal will triumph over sin and the devil. I shall preach the gospel of Christ, an opening for salvation for all who repent of their sins, leave all to follow him, trust and obey our Lord Jesus Christ and receive his word as spoken by me, as Elijah and messenger of the covenant."

"I ask the prayers of every man and woman in New York that this may be accomplished."

"Will the members of the host preach? What will they say when they visit the people?"

"Some will preach and pray, but the host are instructed not to enter into any religious argument with any one. No person ever was converted to anything by wrangling. The host will simply call at the doors, extend the message of Christ and place in the hands of some member of the family a card of greeting which we have printed."

"An invitation will be extended to each to come to our meetings. Further than that the host will do nothing except when opportunity offers to aid some sufferer or pray with the sick, if requested so to do. They will ask nothing and receive nothing."

I asked Dowie regarding his title, Elijah the Restorer, and this is what he told me:

"The name is not a title; it is reality. I firmly believe in common with tens of thousands of my followers, that I have been sent by God in the spirit and the power of Elijah as the third and last manifestation of that prophet."

GOT 'EM SCARED.

Republicans Worried by Progress Johnson is Making.

HANNA AGAIN RESORTS TO ABUSE

Democratic Nominee For Governor Has Addressed Nearly Two Hundred Thousand People in Ohio—Republican Side Opposed to Two-Cent Fare and Home Rule.

Mansfield, Oct. 19.—Without the beating of tom-toms, brass bands, red fire and the other circus features that characterize the Republican meetings throughout the state this fall, Tom L. Johnson addressed in this thriving city one of the largest crowds he has faced in this campaign. Enthusiastic! No crowd was ever more so. And yet the Republican managers, whose star spellbinders could not draw more than 200 people from their homes here two weeks ago, talk about carrying this Democratic county. When Mayor Johnson came into Richland last summer to make good his promise that he would defeat Earlhart, one of the eight Democrats who betrayed their party in the last legislature by voting for the Cincinnati steal, every politician in the county, large and small, opposed him. But the people believed in him and the work of the politicians availed naught. The people of Richland are with him stronger now than they were then.

As the end of the campaign draws near the confidence among the Democratic cohorts grows in proportion with the increasing uneasiness of the Republican camp. Since the Democratic opening at Akron, Sept. 9, Mayor Johnson has spoken to nearly 200,000 people throughout Ohio, and that he makes votes wherever he goes, even his enemies are forced to admit. One who listens to Mayor Tom Johnson for the first time can see as plainly as the man who has heard him a hundred times his utter lack of self-consciousness and his earnest sincerity. It is that Johnson thoroughly believes the things he says that he persuades others to believe them. And that is why Tom Johnson is, perhaps, the only man in Ohio who could go about the state for weeks talking on four subjects—home rule, just taxation, two-cent railroad fare and Senator Hanna—without wearying the people who hear him and the readers of newspapers.

The Republican machine which has corrupted Ohio politics and betrayed the people into the hands of the corporations, the institutions that put up the enormous campaign funds for the Republican leaders—is doomed to destruction when the people are awakened to a realization of the condition of affairs. Johnson is awakening them. The leaders are scared, and none more so than Senator Hanna, who has even become a desperate calamity howler. He says that Johnson is a Socialist and an anarchist and that if Clarke should be elected to the senate a business blight would at once sweep over the entire country. In fear of such a thing the "captains of industry," he cries, have already begun to tremble in their boots, and all business is shaky. He explains that if he is returned to the senate all will be well forthwith. To the utterances of Hanna, Mr. Johnson has paid very little attention in his speeches, though he has had a great deal to say about Senator Hanna's public record, especially concerning his use of the power placed in his hands as United States Senator and as leader of the Republican party to help his own private pocketbook.

Of these things Mr. Hanna has not had anything to say. "Johnson is an anarchist and a Socialist, and if you defeat me the country will go to the bow-wows," is the only answer he makes. It is quite evident that Senator Hanna is not as well posted as a statesman ought to be, or he would know that Johnson could not be a "Socialist and an anarchist." Socialists believe that everything should be done by law, and the philosophy of anarchy is that there should be no law at all.

"If I am re-elected I will try to have passed a bill giving $180,000,000 subsidy to the American ship trust, of which my friend Grissom is the head," is what Hanna promises.

"If a Democratic legislature is elected all the people of Ohio can ride on steam railroads in this state for two cents a mile before next April," Johnson replies.

"If the Republican ticket is defeated there will be a business panic," threatens Hanna, the recognized leader and defender of all the trusts and monopolies in the country.

"If the Democratic ticket is elected the railroads will be made to pay the $3,000,000 of taxes they are now dodging and the people of Ohio will pay that much less than they are now paying," says Johnson.

"Johnson is a demagogue and a fat fakir," shouts Hanna.

"As a private citizen Hanna is a good fellow," Johnson asserts. And thus it goes on, threats and bulldozing and personal vilification on one side, and on the other fair speaking and quiet argument.

Hanna, Dick, Foraker and all the rest on the Republican side say the people of Ohio do not want two-cent fare on steam railroads because the people have so much money they would rather pay three cents. Republicans who are elected to the legislature will ride on passes and will vote against a two-cent bill.

SPORTS

Detract From Cresceus' Record.

Horsemen at Memphis did not receive the news of Cresceus' record breaking mile at Wichita, Kan., with credulity, and there were several who at once said the track was short. One man, prominent in the game, said that the track was exactly 180 feet short. It is to be hoped measurements will be taken and that every circumstance about the wonderful performance will be authenticated.

Western Football Review.

Football calculations and predictions received an awful upset Saturday, not only on "U" field at Columbus when Kenyon was overwhelmed by O. S. U., but also at Chicago when the team from Northwestern university held Stagg's maroon eleven to a 0 to 9 score on Marshall field. Every one expected to see Chicago win and it was only a question in their minds of the size of the score, but McCormack, the Dartmouth player who is coaching the purple team, had developed a speed and team work which swept the heavy Chicago line off its feet, and kept the play almost constantly in Chicago territory. McCormack has been known as a good football man, and efficient coach, but in one bound he laid alongside of Yost, and the two stand out in the lime light as the best coaches in the west.

Eckersole, the sensational quarterback for Chicago, did not have a chance to show his speed and cleverness, as he generally found his heavy line men thrown back upon him, the purple forwards invariably getting the charge on their heavier opponents.

As the situation appears to us at this distance, there are three teams that appear now to be in the forefront, each of them having done work this season that stands out prominently. They are Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin, and until these teams have some big games, their work pushes them to the center of the stage. Illinois also has a strong team and her game next Saturday with Chicago will test her strength and place her rank.

The interest in western football was never greater than at present, and this is true in Newark, where there are scores of enthusiasts who keep posted on everything that is being done by the "Big Nine" teams.

An Interview With Lajoie.

This Superb Ball Player Was Almost Lost to the Game.

He Tells The Public How He Saved Himself This Spring.

No ball player got fame and fortune as quickly as Napoleon Lajoie, second baseman and captain of the Clevelanders. From the time he entered the "big league" he has been a wonder, taking first place as a heavy batter, and he is today the best paid and greatest ball player in the world. The hard work of last season threw him into an illness which lasted all winter and spring. His magnificent frame was so reduced that it was stated in the newspapers that he could never again appear on the field. But to the delight of the lovers of the game he appeared with his club, looking stronger, hitting harder and playing a better game than ever.

Of his recovery from shattered health to perfect form, Lajoie says: "During my illness I did not begin to improve till I took Father John's Medicine. It quickly built up my body to its former strength and made me active as at any time in my career. Now I carry a bottle of the medicine with me on the trips with my club and it keeps me well all the time."

Father John's Medicine is sold at Collins' Drug Store, N. Third Street.

TWO STUDENTS HAZED

Kenyon Boys Daubed Stains on Faces of the Pair So That Mothers Didn't Know Them--Zanesville Cadets the Victims.

William Townsend and Hildreth Lindsay, two Zanesville boys, who are attending the Kenyon Military academy at Gambier, suffered an old time hazing at the hands of the college boys, says the Mt. Vernon Banner. The boys were caught parading the streets in their best togs and were taken to the river, where they were doused in cold water. They were then tied to trees. After this the fellows were released, to be recaptured and strung up in the trees from which they had been

HEBRON

Meeting Addressed by Phil B. Smythe and Jesse A. Flory Was Well Attended.

The Democratic meeting held in Hebron Saturday night was one of the best held in that section of the county this campaign. The meeting was held in the Odd Fellows' hall, which was comfortably filled.

Mr. Frank Slabaugh was made chairman of the meeting and introduced the speakers of the evening, P. B. Smythe and J. A. Flory.

Mr. Smythe made a rousing speech, which went right home to the hearts of his hearers. His speech was devoted principally to taxation as applied to existing conditions in Licking county, and as it affects the taxpayers at home.

Mr. Flory made the closing address. He spoke on the general issues of the campaign and set forth the claims and arguments of the Democratic candidates for the coming election. His arguments were clear, concise and to the point.

set at liberty. A solution of walnut stain and iodine was applied to their faces and the boys were chased back to the dormitory.

The mothers of the two boys, Mrs. F. M. Townsend and Mrs. Ethel Lindsay, journeyed to Gambier, where they were met at the station by two dark-skinned lads. On alighting from the car the visitors passed their sons with rubbing sleeves, but failed to recognize them. It will be some little time before they can go out in society.

TROUBLE

AT COLLEGE LIGHT PLANT IS ADJUSTED.

Men Receiving $1.50 Wanted $1.75 a Day, But Finally Accepted $1.60 for Work

Granville, O., Oct. 20.—Mr. James Linn, the Newark contractor, who has the contract for building the power house here that is to furnish the light and heat for Denison university, Shepardon college, Doane academy and the dormitories, has been pushing the work, as the college authorities are very anxious to have the building completed before cold weather sets in. Monday when Moses J. James, the foreman of the work, arrived at the site of the power building he found but four of the thirteen men at work. He soon found that there was a strike on hand. The men, who are engaged in doing the excavating work, had struck for $1.75 per day of nine hours' work. They had been getting $1.50 for the same time. Mr. James informed the men that he was unable to grant the increase without consulting with his superiors and the men refused to work, with the exception of the four who had declined to go out. This morning all the men arrived from Newark, and when they found that two of the men, Judson Harmon and Earl Priest, had carriers, had gone to work, there was trouble in the air. The men had agreed to accept a compromise of $1.60 per day, but refused to go to work until Harmon and Priest were laid off. The men were finally told that their services were no longer needed and the men returned to work at $1.60 per day.

FINE DAY

AND A BIG FIELD OF SPLENDID HORSES.

Newark Meeting Opens Auspiciously—Horsemen Say the Wichita Track Is a Full Mile.

Everything that could possibly aid in making the race meeting under the auspices of the Newark Driving park a great success is in evidence on this, the first day.

There are many horses at the grounds from some of the best known stables in the country and the races are all well filled with the very best horses in the various classes.

The half-mile track, which every horseman who knows anything about it says is one of the best in the country, is lightning fast and it is altogether likely that both the track records in pacing and trotting will be broken.

An Advocate reporter carried the news to a number of the horsemen that Cresceus had broken the mile record at Wichita, Kan. Without exception the horsemen are jubilant that the great Ohio stallion has again mounted the throne as king of trotters. They have all taken it as almost a personal affront that Lou Dillon and Major Delmar had taken Cresceus' laurels and express the most hearty satisfaction that Ketcham's grand horse is again premier.

With one accord they scout the suggestion of a short track, and men who know the track over which the record breaking mile was traveled unhesitatingly assert that in point of fact the track at Wichita is over a mile, measured four feet from the pole.

The program for Wednesday's races follows:

2:27 trot, 10 entries.

2:21 trot, 10 entries.

2:23 pace, 11 entries.

MAY PATCH WINS

May Patch, owned by A. E. Miller of Newark, won the 2:35 pace this afternoon in straight heats, defeating the favorite Electric Storm.

To my surprise it removed all pain and soreness and the injured parts were soon healed." For sale by all druggists.

ST. VITUS DANCE

Mrs. Anderson, Jacksonville, Fla., daughter of Recorder of Deeds, West, who witnessed her signature to the following letter, praises Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—There are but few wives and mothers who have not at times endured agonies and such pain as only women know. I wish such women knew the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a remarkable medicine, different in action from any I ever knew and thoroughly reliable. "I have seen many cases where women doctored for years without permanent benefit, who were cured in less than three months after taking your Vegetable Compound, while others who were chronic and incurable came out cured, happy, and in perfect health after a thorough treatment with this medicine. I have never used it myself without gaining great benefit. A few doses restores my strength and appetite, and tones up the entire system. Your medicine has been tried and found true, hence I fully endorse it."—Mrs. R. A. Anderson, 225 Washington St., Jacksonville, Fla. $5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

No other medicine for women has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles. Refuse to buy any substitute.

BISSELL'S SENSE OF HUMOR

Stories Told of the Former Postmaster General.

The announcement of the death of former Postmaster General Wilson S. Bissell was received with sorrow by the older attaches of the post office department, says a Washington special to the St. Louis Republic. Expressions of regret were heard on every side. Mr. Bissell, though brusque in manner, oftentimes and blunt in expression, had the faculty of making friends.

Many stories are told of him, some of them of a humorous nature. Travus Ross, who has served under more than a dozen postmasters general, said: "Senator Coke of Texas was a man of ponderous weight. He had long, shaggy eyebrows that were as prolific in growth as an ordinary mustache. He was good natured and always found time to pilot his constituents about the departments. Coke was forever and eternally chewing a big quid of tobacco of the kind that is grown in Texas."

"There was a post office war on in earnest in some town in his state, and a half dozen or more of his constituents, together with the applicant who had been endorsed by the senator, came east to have the fight settled. Coke came over to the department and introduced his friends to Mr. Bissell."

"Now, Bissell," said Coke, and his jaws were working with regularity on a mouthful of plug, "I want you to appoint this man (calling him by name) postmaster at—"

"You know," he continued "that Texas is now composed of 2,000,000 good, loyal citizens—"

"Yes," Bissell broke in, "and 1,000,000 of them are up here after office."

Ross told another story of a member of congress who came to the department one day and rushed into Bissell's office.

"I have no business to transact," said the representative; "just dropped in to shake hands."

Bissell looked up from his desk and quietly asked, "Have you a photograph of yourself that you might leave?"

"Mr. Bissell was one of the best men I ever served under," said Ross. "He was considerate of every one who worked about his office."

WHAT THE OLD DOCTOR SAID.

"Doctor," said I, "you say appendicitis is much more common than it was thirty years ago."

"Indeed it is," replied the old doctor. "That we encountered this disease then, is true, but not with such appalling frequency. Appendicitis, these days, is almost as common as sore throat."

"To what, doctor, do you attribute this increase of appendicitis?"

"To hasty eating and to the use of foods which have a tendency to clog and fret the intestines and deaden peristaltic action. The way to avoid appendicitis and the surgeon's knife is to shun unnatural foods that begot intestinal torpor and constipation."

People who eat Shredded Whole Wheat. Discard do not have constipation and hence need not fear appendicitis. This perfectly natural food preserves the tone of the digestive tract and induces every excretory gland to subserve the body's interests. Have you tried this most delicious of all cereal foods?

Infirmary Director,
BURR D. JACKSON.

The question of how farmers of the western states stand on the tariff and trust issues has been strongly indicated through the enterprise of the 'Farm and Home,' published in Chicago. That newspaper sent out 50,000 postal cards requesting answers to seven questions, amongst which was: "Should tariff be revised?" The vote on that proposition was yes, 27,193; no, 10,728.

When it is considered that the majority in most of the states from which this vote was gathered is largely Republican, it marks the revolt in the ranks of that party against excessive protection. But another vote was taken on a kindred subject that shows how the extortions of the trusts are regarded by the farmers. The question asked was: "Should trusts be regulated or suppressed?" The answer was: "Regulated, 22,854; Suppressed, 14,449. This straw vote shows the drift for tariff reform and regulation of the trusts. The stand-patters have a job in front of them next year.

VICTORY FOR THE CITY

Was the Decision of the Circuit Court, By Which Another Necessary Step Has Been Gained to Prevent Delay in Progress for City Ownership of Water Works.

An attempt characteristic in its cheapness and demagogism is being made by the American-Tribune to give its readers a false idea as to the results of the recent decision of the Circuit court in the matter of the bond issue for water works. The case was decided in favor of the city, and the judicial finding is in exact accordance with the ideas and desires of the Council and City Solicitor, as well as all the friends of municipal ownership, and in direct opposition to the course that was advocated by that paper on this question.

Solicitor Smythe Monday gave the following correct history of the litigation, which will be determined only when the supreme court finally passes on the question at issue.

"This suit was instituted by the City Council to test the legality of the proceedings, leading up to the issue of the bonds. We wanted to know what effect it any the enactment of the new code would have on the former proceedings.

"In order to lay the foundation for the suit, the ordinance to sell the bonds was passed. Nobody intended to sell the bonds at this time, under this ordinance, but it was necessary to pass it in order to bring the matter to the attention of the Court. The Solicitor told the Court in his argument that the city as a matter of fact, DID NOT WANT TO SELL THE BONDS NOW, that the city wanted to observe, and keep sacred the promise made in the ordinance of March 17, 1902, which provided that the bonds should not be issued for two years.

"The Court further held that the proceedings of Council were regular, legal and valid, and that the bonds issued in pursuance thereof will be valid and legal bonds of the city. This was all that the city desired, consequently the decision was a complete victory for the city.

TAXATION AMENDMENT

The Proposed Measure Will Not Affect Present Exemptions of Church and Other Property, But Will Be a Reform in Taxation.

Columbus, O., Oct. 20.—The proposition to amend the taxation section of the constitution is meeting with wide discussion. In some quarters it is being criticized, and one of the most severe criticisms is that it will endanger the exemption features of the present constitution.

The Ohio State Federation of Catholic Societies has made an investigation of the exemption matter and a report, just made by the executive committee shows that there need be no fear that present exemptions will be disturbed if the amendment is adopted by the people at the coming election.

At the state convention of the Ohio State Federation of Catholic Societies a resolution was adopted expressing apprehension that the proposed amendment, by reason of ambiguity in its phraseology, might change existing conditions and thereby endanger exemption from taxation of Catholic school property in the state.

The report of the executive committee has this to say: "The Ohio State Board of Commerce, which has been the prime mover in the matter of the proposed amendment, and is responsible for the legislative joint resolution to submit said amendment to the votes of the people, at once took cognizance of the resolution of the State Federation."

The matter was taken up by the executive and advisory boards of the State Federation, and this expression is the result:

"The subject involving investigation from a legal standpoint, the executive board concluded not only practitioners, but requested and obtained the opinions of eminent Catholic judges of the state before venturing a final decision.

"The conclusion thus reached by the executive and advisory boards is that the constitutional amendment proposed will leave our parochial school property as exempt from taxation as it is at present under the existing constitution. The proposed amendment will neither add to nor take from the legislative any power to tax parochial school property which it has not under the constitution unamended.

"So far as the constitutional exemptions are concerned, the status of parochial school property will remain unchanged. The exemptions, as provided for in the constitution, remain entirely unaffected by the amendment proposed."

A letter from the Ohio State Board of Commerce, through Allen Ripley Foote, commissioner, did much to influence

"The Court further held that the Council could repeal the ordinance of March 17, and sell the bonds at the present time, but so long as the ordinance was not repealed the bonds could not be issued until the two years elapsed.

"Inasmuch as the city does not desire to issue the bonds until after the expiration of the two years, or until after March, 1904, the ordinance will not be disturbed. This finding is the same as that of Judge Seward."

All these steps were absolutely necessary for the ultimate municipal ownership of water works by the City of Newark, and it is now an assured fact that all litigation will be settled before the time comes for issuing the bonds. Had the plan of delay been pursued as advocated by the American-Tribune until next year, the water works company could have gone into the courts and held up the bond issue until the present contract expired. The city would have then had two courses open—to do without water until the matter was settled in the courts, or go into another contract with the company at the company's own terms.

Delay tactics is plainly in the interest of the water company, for another twenty years contract is just what the water company wants. Delay tactics is the water company's plan to finally force the city into such a contract as the company can dictate. Delay tactics is just what the American-Tribune has been promoting from the very beginning of the water works issue and at every stage of its progress. But when the 17th of March, 1904, comes around all the legal questions will have been settled in the courts and there will be no obstacle in the way of the city going ahead in the final proceedings for city ownership, whether it shall be by building a new plant or by purchasing the present one.

The State Federation to take the action noted above. An extract from that letter, of interest to all voters, reads:

"There has been no suggestion from any source that in the classification of subjects for taxation, under the proposed amended constitution, any attempt could ever be made to remove from the exempted class property now exempted. Further, this board will not only never approve of any classification so as to tax parochial school property, but, on the contrary, it will at all times propose and stand for only such classifications as will leave absolutely undisturbed existing conditions as they relate to all property now exempt. We have now in preparation for circulation a measure we will shortly submit to the voters concerning the classification of all subjects for taxation. There can, therefore, be no reasonable doubt that this board is unchangeably committed to leaving entirely undisturbed all existing exemptions.

"Unless there are objections other than fears of the proposed amendment affecting existing conditions, we trust it will receive the universal support we feel certain the best interests of the whole people entitle it to."

MINISTER

DIED FROM THE BURSTING OF A BLOOD VESSEL.

Rev. F. M. Shook, Formerly of Pataskala, Was Called at Hopewell Early Monday Evening.

Rev. F. M. Shook, pastor and founder of the Holiness church at Hopewell, died at that town Monday evening at 10 o'clock after a few weeks serious illness from tubercular troubles. The deceased had not been well for some time, and death was due immediately to the bursting of a blood vessel.

Rev. Mr. Shook went to Hopewell from Pataskala about a year ago, and was instrumental in the founding and building of the Holiness (Sanctified) church. His death is a sad blow to the community which had formed an attachment for him. He leaves a wife and seven children.

HOW HANNA USES POWER.

Protects His Street Railroad at Expense of the People.

Hanna's Railroad Pays Taxes on Ten Per Cent of Its Value—When His Property Was Taxed on Sixty Per Cent as Other Property His State Officials Knocked Off Increase and Placed Burdens on Farmers and Home-Owners.

Mayor Johnson has made the charge that Senator Hanna has used his position to advance his own personal interests at the expense of the public. Senator Hanna has denied the charge and stated that if guilty he should be defeated for re-election to the senate. Hanna was the president and largest stockholder in the Cleveland City Railway company, one of the two street railroads in the city of Cleveland, and to which Hanna always referred as his "Savings Bank."

Hanna's street railroad was taxed on a $600,000 valuation. This road, together with the other public service corporations in Cleveland, has notoriously evaded its just burden of taxation. Upon Mayor Johnson's election he appointed the Cleveland city board of equalization, which upon investigation, placed Hanna's road on the tax duplicate for $6,113,800, a conservative estimate of its value on a 60 per cent basis.

Immediately upon this being done, Hanna appealed the case to the state board of tax revision, composed of Governor Nash, Attorney General Sheets and State Auditor Guilbert, all of whom owed their nomination and election to Hanna. At Hanna's dictation, this board, without regard to the law or the facts of the case, took off the valuation added by the city board of equalization, leaving the Cleveland City railroad upon the tax duplicate at the amount returned prior to the addition.

In June, 1903, Auditor Wright of Cuyahoga county, Democrat, whom the people elected to succeed a Republican who died as Mark Hanna told him, after a hearing given to the Cleveland City railroad, owned by Hanna, added to the tax valuation of the railroad for the year 1902 and the four years preceding the following amounts:

1898 — $2,590,000; 1899 — $3,900,000; 1900 — $4,294,000; 1901 — $4,224,000; 1902 — $4,251,000. These additions increased the tax valuation of Hanna's railroad to the following amounts for the years named:

1898 $3,356,005
1899 4,817,205
1900 5,174,680
1901 5,362,696
1902 5,558,359

Upon this action being taken by Auditor Wright, Hanna again appealed the matter to his nominees and proteges on the state board of revision and there it will remain until after the November election. If the people should again vote Hanna's candidates into office, the additions will be promptly taken off and the taxes thus remitted will have to be paid by the balance of the citizens of the state. If Hanna's candidates are rebuked the state board will not dare take this action. If the Democratic candidates are elected all the privileged interests of the state will be compelled to pay taxes on the same basis as homes and farms.

Shortly after Auditor Wright took the above action Hanna's railroad was combined with the Cleveland Electric railway, Hanna's road was turned in for $10,400,000, or a little less than the cash value of the stocks and securities on the market at that time.

If this property was worth in the market $10,400,000, was Auditor Wright's action in increasing the tax valuation to less than half of the market value fair or unfair to the corporation? If fair, and no reasonable man can say that it was not, did not Hanna use his position to fill his own pocket as charged, when at his direction the state board took off the additions made by the Cleveland city board of equalization?

While homes and farms are taxed at from 60 per cent to 80 per cent of their value, Hanna's street railroad escapes with less than 10 per cent, and as president and largest stockholder he has the affrontery to publicly deny well known and proven facts, and then ask the people of the state to re-elect him again to office that he may continue to use his position for the benefit of himself and those contributing to his vast corruption fund, and threatening that unless he is re-elected and allowed to pursue the policy heretofore carried out, as above indicated, that starvation and soup houses shall abound in the land.

Hanna has said that if guilty as charged, he should be defeated. We have taken one instance only, out of many, to show that he is guilty, as charged, and we believe that the decent, liberty-loving citizens will take him at his word and retire him to private life.

State Auditor Guilbert, for his part in removing the addition made by the Cleveland city board of equalization, was rewarded with a nomination for a third term for the office of state auditor, and if elected with Myron T. Herrick and Wade Ellis, all of whom owe their nomination to Mark Hanna, will again commit a further fraud upon the people of Cuyahoga county, by again taking off the additions made by Auditor Wright.

Every dollar that the steam roads and other large corporations escape in taxation must be paid by the home-owner and small business.

AMUSEMENTS.

The capacity of the Auditorium was taxed to its utmost Monday night to witness the opening of a week's engagement by the Murray Comedy company. If Monday night's performance is a guarantee of the work of the company during the coming nights of the engagement, it is safe to say that the Murray Comedy is 150 per cent. stronger than ever before. The bill Monday night was "The New Partner." The work of the company was such as to show that it is well balanced. Dick Maddox in a German specialty, and Grace Thurston's dancing, which was as good as ever seen in Newark, pleased the big audience. Mrs. Dorothy Smith sang several illustrated songs, and displayed a voice of much higher quality than is generally heard in this kind of music.

Tonight the company will present "Nettie, the Newsgirl," a splendid melo-drama. Popular prices.

THE CITY COUNCIL

Mayor Crilly Vetoes Several Ordinances and Gives His Reasons for Doing So—Several Ordinances Approved—Locust Street Paving—Notes Renewed—Council Proceedings.

The city council met Monday evening in regular session with all members present and with President Rosell in the chair.

The record of the previous meeting was read by Clerk Maurath and approved by the council.

The law committee submitted its report in favor of settling the damage case of Felix Stout against the city of Newark by paying the plaintiff $900.

Mayor Crilly submitted a report favorable to refunding the North Fourth street fire department building and suggested that bonds to the amount of $3,000 be issued for that purpose. Referred to the board of public safety.

Mayor Crilly presented his approval of several ordinances passed by council to issue bonds to pay the indebtedness caused by the smallpox epidemic, for estimate for construction of sidewalks on Penney avenue, to extend the water mains on West Main street and to construct a sewer on Locust street between Fifth and Twelfth streets.

The Mayor's veto of the ordinance accepting the Wehrle addition was read by Clerk Maurath. The Mayor gave as his reason that the addition has not been graded and put in proper condition as was promised.

His disapproval of ordinances to construct sidewalks on Flory avenue, Grant, Pine and Wing streets, was received and filed. Lack of funds was the cause of the Mayor's veto.

After the Mayor's vetoes had been read Judge Hunter and Mr. Moser expressed themselves forcibly regarding the Mayor's action, the former making a motion to adjourn sine die, while Mr. Moser seconded the motion which was lost by a vote of the council.

The board of public service reported that the cost of constructing a sewer on Locust street from Fifth to Twelfth streets, would be $7,531.87, at $1.15 per foot front. The cost of a sidewalk on the east side of Penney avenue would be $353.35, at 45c per foot front.

A petition from the residents of Bowers avenue, asking that a gaspipe be laid on that street, was received and filed.

Property owners of Granville street, between Eddy and Thirteenth streets, protested against the paving of that part of Granville street. The petition was received and filed.

A plat of the Jones addition to the city of Newark was presented by Judge Hunter and was referred to the street committee.

The street committee was instructed to report on the Everett's addition at the next meeting.

RESOLUTIONS.

By Hunter—That the time of the note for $48,600 borrowed from the Licking County Bank in anticipation of the collection of the June taxes, be extended six months with the consent of the creditor, and also that the city auditor be instructed to distribute the June tax to the various funds; adopted.

By Moser—That council borrow $3,484.82 in anticipation of collection of a special assessment for construction of sidewalks that Mayor vetoed; first reading.

By Moser—That the residents of the property owners of Wilson street be notified to repair their sidewalks at once; adopted.

By Hunter—That a sewer be constructed on Locust street from Fifth to Twelfth streets; first reading.

CHAINED HIS BOY

Because the Lad Refused to Go to School, Go to Work or Remain at Home—Father Declares He Will Defy the Police.

Marietta, O., Oct. 29.—"I defy the Humane Society, Chief Dye or anybody else to touch me or that boy," said Luther Best to a correspondent, who had called at his home to investigate a story of alleged cruelty.

"Yes, I chained him down, and I do worse than that if he don't mind me," continued Best in answer to a question whether or not the story was true that he had chained his fourteen-year-old boy to the floor.

Chief of Police Dye took from the Best home last evening a trace chain, such as are used on log wagons, a huge plank and saw, which had been driven into the floor and a padlock. One end of the chain had been fastened to the plank and the other end to the collar around the boy's neck. According to the story related to the Chief, the boy had been tied in the house in this manner for two weeks.

A small cot was stationed within the circle of which the chain made a radius so that the child could rest if he chose. Food and drink were carried to him by other members of the family. The case was not brought to the attention of M. D. Pollett, member of the State Board of Charities. He in turn communicated the facts in his possession to the Humane Society and to the Chief of Police. The latter went to the house and found the story related by the authorities to be practically true.

The story related by Best last night was to the effect that he had tried every means within his power to get the boy either to go to work or to school or to stay at home. He would not do either. The father learned, however, that there was to be an investigation. He held a council of war with the boy, who agreed to go to work. Employment had been found for him at a local lumber mill.

The boy could not be seen, but the father expressed an opinion that all would be well in the future if no effort is made to put him to any trouble. He furnished a big revolver and declared that if any attempt is made to arrest him that there will be trouble. Best is a laboring man and has borne a good reputation. Asked whether or not there would be any arrests in the case, Chief of Police Dye said: "I don't know."

HAMPERED

BUT BY NO MEANS DEFEATED IS DR. SHEPARDSON

Wheel Chair Evangelist Has Won Success Against Heavy Odds—Now in Cleveland, O.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 20.—The Plain Dealer publishes the following concerning Dr. Daniel Shepardson and his wife who was formerly Miss Mary Smith of Newark:

Dr. Daniel Shepardson, the wheel chair evangelist, powerless to move his lower limbs, objects to being styled an invalid. He has a youthful and pleasant face, all smiles as he talks, yet with the strong features of a man of the world. His broad shoulders give evidence of a splendid physique and impress his guests with their reserve strength. He is lecturing this week at the East End Baptist church.

In 1891 he left Yale with all his strength and physical vigor and a degree of doctor of philosophy, to go to Europe for study. On his return to America he was paralyzed in his lower limbs and has never recovered their use. Among the classmates whom he left at Yale was H. A. Aikens, now a professor philosophy at Western Reserve university. Yesterday for the first time since they separated on the campus of old Eli they met.

Though a cripple and compelled to do duties daily which would be hard even for the strongest of men, he has won distinction which fall to few. During the last year he has traveled 17,000 miles, delivering Bible lectures twice daily in every part of this country from New York to San Francisco, and from Santa Barbara in southern California to the frozen fields of Alaska.

During his travels he went through the Grand canyon of the Colorado river in his wheel chair, a feat which the guides there say has never been attempted or accomplished by any other man. In the Yellowstone park he traveled on horseback for miles and miles, camping and fishing and seeing the sights of the national park. To make it possible for him to travel on horseback the guides rigged up a special saddle, tying him in. The horse was led by a guide.

In Alaska his favorite sport was fishing in the sounds or in the ocean, his wife and a guide being his companions. That he might have strong support in landing his fish iron braces were rigged up and every provision made for his safety and comfort. A catch of which he is especially proud was a thirty-one-pound halibut. It took him fifteen minutes to land the fish, but it was finally conquered.

No less interesting than the lecturer is his wife. She has accompanied him in all his travels and assists him in the work he has undertaken. She possesses a finished musical education and is a pianist of considerable renown. She received her education in the Boston Conservatory of Music. At each service which her husband conducts she takes charge of the music, at the same time rendering some selection on the piano.

They usually spend about two weeks in a place. At the opening evening service she organizes a large girls' choir which attends the services and leads in the singing. Last evening she secured nearly forty girls for her choir.

The boyhood home of Dr. Shepardson was in Granville, Ohio, where his father was president of the young ladies' institute, now known as Shepardson College of the Denison university.

At the morning service at the East End Baptist church, where the course will be given, he made a declaration of principle, emphasizing five things—the power of prayer, the power of an inspired book, the supremacy of Christ and the reality of the Christian experience and the necessity and joy of definite personal service, indicating that his work in this city would be along the line of these principles.

In the evening he began the first of a series of lectures on "Paul's Prison Letters." On each day of the week he lectures twice, once in the afternoon and once in the evening. In the afternoons he will discuss the minor prophets and in the evenings continue his lectures on "Paul's Prison Letters." His lectures are scholarly, unsectarian and popular.

School Board

At the Board of Education meeting Monday several representatives of heating companies were present. The board awarded the contract for heating the new North School building to the Simpson Furnace company, at $324.

Application was made by the senior class for an entertainment to be given in November or December, which was referred to the superintendent and principal of the High School.

Permission was given, upon recommendations of the superintendent, to any teacher who desires to do so to attend the Central Ohio Teachers' association, to be held at Cleveland next month.

Standard pianos at one-fourth, one-third and one-half off.

The average piano dealer in a town the size of Newark will sell probably twelve pianos a year, one piano per month. Therefore, reader, I have shipped to this city sixteen nice, new upright pianos and a half dozen organs. I am going to sell these instruments here in TEN DAYS, saving you $100 per piano. Sale will begin tomorrow and continue all this week and all of next, ending, positively, one week from this coming Saturday night.

These pianos consist of the celebrated Kimball, an instrument of the best grade, endorsed by Patti, Sousa and one hundred and fifty of the musical artists of the world.

The celebrated Krell, made at Cincinnati, Ohio, having a most charming tone quality.

The Singer piano, a very fine, high grade instrument; the Hipze and others.

I shall offer and sell $450 first class pianos at $298. Pianos that sell at $375 to $425 at $283. Terms $25 cash, $10 per month.

Regular $225 pianos at $138, small payment down, $6 per month.

Terms to suit you if you can't pay these.

Every piano fully guaranteed and warranted. One stool, one scarf and delivery free, one tuning inside of six months free.

ORGANS.

These organs embrace the high grade, first class Kimball and others. The price for a $125 organ will be $69, $5 to $10 cash, $5 per month.

For a $65 organ, $35; $5 cash, $4 or $5 per month.

Your money back if you are not satisfied. One year ago I sold fifteen upright pianos in your city in about five days time. I shall be pleased to have you call at my store and see my list of satisfied customers who purchased instruments.

If you are sick and not able to pay for your instrument it will not be taken away from you. Come in early and see the stock for a first choice.

RECORD ON THE LABOR QUESTION
Of the Two Candidates for Senator in This District-- Facts for the Workingmen of Newark to Read and Consider.

Delaware, O., Oct. 20.—Mr. Edward F. Gwynn has resided in Delaware for the last fifteen years and during that time has made for himself an enviable reputation among the working people of our city.

By his easy manners and courteous treatment he has won the respect of our citizens. His generous and sympathetic disposition toward the less fortunate has made him a friend of all. He is not a politician and has never sought political office. During all the time that Mr. Gwynn has resided in our city he has never made an attempt to secure a nomination for any political office. He has figured very prominently in the largest enterprises Delaware possesses, and by so doing has been close to the working classes and has employed more laborers than any other person in our city.

We ask a careful investigation of his record, as to the treatment of his employees and the wages he paid them. There are hundreds in our city who have been in his employ, and today they recognize in him one who can be relied upon, and generous to them.

Each is a living witness to the fact that Mr. Gwynn can be rightly called the workingman's friend. During the construction of a large heating plant in our city, he employed upwards of one hundred and fifty men. This came at a time when workmen were very plentiful, and owing to this fact, he could not use all of those who applied for work. Notwithstanding the number of men he could secure, he voluntarily raised the prices of common laborers twenty-five and fifty cents per day. This raise of wages by him was the direct cause of a general advance of wages among the laboring people all over the city and culminated in establishing a higher scale of wages than was ever before paid in Delaware. This is a record that Mr. Gwynn is proud of and a record that was made before any political position was anticipated.

Cannot such a man be trusted? The election of Mr. Gwynn for state senator from the Fifteenth-Sixteenth districts will be a reward for one who has ever been ready to assist his fellowmen and willing to do anything that will lessen the burdens of mankind.

OVERTURF'S RECORD.
Senator N. F. Overturf, "the workingman's friend." Let us investigate. Let us consider his record while in office and see if his appellation should be "Friend" or "Enemy."

In 1894 he was elected as councilman in the Sixth ward of Delaware, O. It was here the opportunity was presented to show his friendship for those who were employed as city officials and day laborers. The first resolution that was offered raising salaries was that of five cents. The salary was one hundred dollars per year, and an effort was made to increase it to three hundred dollars per year. Notwithstanding the time required to properly fill this office or the dangerous surroundings to which one was exposed, or the great responsibility of the office, Mr. N. F. Overturf voted against this resolution. Two years later an effort was made to increase this salary from one hundred dollars to only two hundred dollars per year, and on this proposition Mr. Overturf voted no.

On the resolution of reducing the salaries of the policemen from one dollar and seventy-five cents to one dollar and fifty cents per day, Mr. Overturf voted yes.

On July 6, 1896, Mr. Overturf prepared and introduced a resolution to reduce the wages of the common laborers the city employed for street cleaning and street repairing purposes from one dollar and thirty-five cents to one dollar and twenty-five cents per day. In this same resolution he proposed to reduce the wages of the teamsters from three dollars and fifty cents to two dollars and fifty cents per day, and teamsters were required to help load the wagons. This resolution was framed and endorsed by Senator Overturf.

These are not idle fancies or political bickerings that will not bear investigation. These statements are true. The minutes of the city council will substantiate the above, and the columns of the Delaware Gazette, a Republican paper, will prove the truthfulness of these statements.

Consider the liberality of one who advocated that one hundred dollars per year was sufficient to pay the fire chief in a city of ten thousand people. Consider the friendliness of one who will vote to reduce the wages of a policeman from one dollar and seventy-five cents to one dollar and fifty cents per day for twelve hours' work.

Consider the generosity of one who would support a resolution that says one dollar and twenty-five cents was sufficient remuneration for a day of hard, manual labor.

Consider the friendly spirit of one who would reduce the wages of teamsters from three dollars and fifty cents to two dollars and seventy-five cents per day.

Thanks to the more generous councilmen who would not allow such resolutions to be passed and become operative in our city.

Mr. Overturf previous to becoming a member of the city council had enjoyed two terms as probate judge at a salary of not less than five thousand dollars per year. Surely such a salary ought to be appreciated, and if ever an opportunity presented itself where one could do something for those who assisted him in acquiring this office, who would naturally expect a raise in salary instead of a reduction.

Consider the position he took and his vote in the last General Assembly on the forty-four year franchise for the Cincinnati Street Railway company. Our state laws limit franchises to twenty-five years. Did he consider that new inventions, or that later discoveries might cheapen the cost of running street cars, even in Cincinnati, Ohio. No, his voice was not raised against this proposition, but silently he bowed in submission and voted to fasten upon the city of Cincinnati a contract that will compel them to pay five cents for each street car fare for forty-four years, while in other cities the people are riding the same distance for three cents.

Who is it that patronizes the street cars? Is it the very wealthy people? No. They have their fancy runabouts, carriages or automobiles. The poorer classes, the laborers and men of moderate means make it possible for street car companies to exist. These are the people and their families who are pouring daily into the coffers of the wealthy street car magnates enough money to keep their own families in bread in Cincinnati if they were able to save the extra two cents themselves, instead of giving it to the street car company. His vote on this proposition was in behalf of a corporation and detrimental to the best interests of ninety-nine people of every hundred in Cincinnati.

Are such actions and such laws beneficial to the general welfare of the laboring men of our state?

What You Ought To Know About Ohio Tax Laws

A DISCUSSION BY
LAWYER THORNDIKE AND FARMER PERKINS
NUMBER ELEVEN (Last Article of Series)

CONCLUSION.
Farmer Perkins—I have been talking the taxation amendment, now pending in Ohio, to every man of intelligence who would listen to me, and I am utterly disgusted with the apparent ignorance and indifference upon the subject. Many of them do not know it is pending and most of them will ask for an explanation of its aims and probable effects. All of them, however, fear the legislature, and seem to be unwilling to trust it with complete power over the taxation question. Those who fear the legislature most were formerly members of it.

Lawyer Thorndike—Local and state taxation is today the most vital question in the states composing the United States. It affects more people for good or evil than any other question. The country has become so densely populated and there has grown up such a rivalry between the respective states in developing their natural resources and in promoting manufactures that each state tax system, as affecting the prosperity of the particular state, has become an object of study.

There must be a body in every state which has supreme power. In enlightened countries that body is the legislature and not the sovereign or executive head of the state. If the people distrust the legislature, they must right the matter by selecting those they can trust, but it is absolutely essential that the legislature should have ample power. Such power is a necessity to the interests of the people, whose representatives they are. Supreme power in the legislature is supreme power in the people. The English government is the freest and most powerful on earth. It never was hampered with a written constitution, and yet in no other country is the power of precedent greater. Great Britain has no complaints of unjust and oppressive taxation beyond the next parliament. When a tax becomes unjust or oppressive, parliament remedies it at once. No constitutional restrictions bar the way. The demands and interests of the people living are only considered. No fetich of ideas of men who dominated in 1840, at any other time, is considered.

When you undertake to hamper the legislative power as to taxation, who is to do it? What right has this generation to constitute itself guardian for generations who will be in being when it is off the stage? What right has the generation of 1851 to constitute themselves our guardians and say that their ideas of taxation should govern us for 51 years? They are happily in their graves, and it is our misfortune that their ideas on taxation were not buried with them. The constitution of 1851, in Article I, Section 1, states that all men have the right to enjoy and defend life and liberty, to acquire and possess property and to seek and to obtain happiness and safety, and then proceeds to abridge and take away these very rights by Section II, Article XII, of the same instrument, by fixing a rule of taxation which has become destructive of property and of the pursuit of happiness. Legislation, in the organic laws of our states, has become a curse. A constitution should be only a declaration of principles, and a frame of government.

We are required to tax money, credits, investments in bonds and stocks and real and personal property, according to its true value in money, but the money is hidden, the credits cannot be ascertained, or if ascertained their taxation can be defeated, the stocks are hidden; we cannot find the personal property, or if found we cannot determine its true value in money. Real estate is not taxed at its true value in money and the officers of the law, sworn to do their duty under the constitution, prevent it.

After 57 years' trial of this principle we have 16 per cent of the money in the state on the tax duplicate; we have 30 per cent of the credits, 22 per cent of the personal property and 41 per cent of the real property.

Since 1846 the percentage of the various classes of property returned has steadily decreased, instead of increasing. In 1846 and 1851 public sentiment favored the ad valorem tax law, now it does not. How long will the people of Ohio keep up this pretense, sham and fraud?

Farmer Perkins—You have shown the defects and shortcomings of the present system but suppose the taxation amendment be adopted Nov. 3d proximo, what reforms can be accomplished under it?

Lawyer Thorndike—The State of Ohio can then cease the persecution and destruction of its citizens who are in debt. It can relieve those owing mortgages on their lands from paying full value on the mortgages and then paying the taxes on the mortgages on the same, which they are now doing. It can decrease the rate of interest to borrowers two per cent.

It can do away with the schools for

It was shust like dot little tailor, und Mr. Vogelestein says I vhas too slow. I vhas in America for twelve years, but maybe I don't catch on yet. It vhas a great country for business, but dere vhas some queer peoples around. Der other night I vhas in bed. She vhas after midnight, und I vhas asleep. Somebody rings my door bell ten times, und I wake oop und put my head out der window und say who you are und vhat you want. It vhas a man, und he looks oop und says:

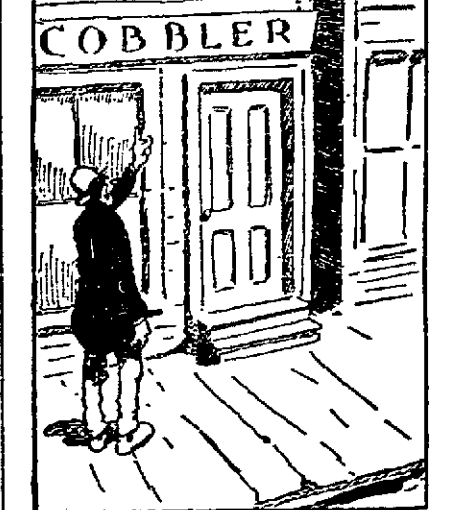

"Hans, vhas your name Peter?"

"No, sir; my name is Hans."

"Hans, eh?"

"Yes, sir."

"But it ought to be Peter. If I walk a mile und ring dot bell to find Peter I don't like to find Hans. It vhas a mean trick on a man who loves his country. You vhas too fresh, und if you come down here I'll fix you out!"

"HANS, VHAS YOUR NAME PETER?"

I don't go down, but my wife vhas scared und don't go to sleep for two hours. It wasn't right by me. I like to be Peter to oblige somebody, but how can I be when I vhas Hans? Nobody can be two names, can he? Some odder night when I vhas dreaming avhay somebody rings dot bell und wakes me oop. I look out und find a man, und he says:

"Vhell, I vhas here."

"Und who vhas you?" I asks.

"My name vhas Shones."

"But I don't know you," I says.

"Dot makes no difference. My name vhas Shones, und if you ever like to see me I vhall be around."

"I shall never like to see you."

"But I vhas Shones just der same—der only Shones in America."

I can't make him out. If he vhas Shones, und if he likes to do some business mit me, why don't he come by daylight? All vhas strange und queer in dis country. Two days ago a man comes in my place und looks around und says:

"Vhas your name Shoseph?"

"No; it vhas Hans. Vhas you look-

HEROINE OF AN "AUTOMOBILE DIVORCE CASE"

MRS. HERBERT W. PHILLIPS.

BOSTON.—The cultured "Hub's" most prominent automobilist, Royal P. Sheldon, young millionaire, figures in the divorce suit of Herbert W. Phillips, who alleges in his suit that his wife has lost her heart to the dashing Sheldon, with his fast automobiles. As Susie W. Robinson she began a successful career as a church soloist. Her married life, however, was not happy. It is alleged that she frequently went on long pleasure trips with Sheldon in his automobile to Providence, Newport, and the White Mountains. The attractions of the auto rides with Sheldon are said to have made her turn cold to her husband, a traveling man.

BECOMING A MOTHER

Is an ordeal which all women approach with indescribable fear, for nothing compares with the pain and horror of child-birth. The thought of the suffering and danger in store for her, robs the expectant mother of all pleasant anticipations of the coming event, and casts over her a shadow of gloom which cannot be shaken off. Thousands of women have found that the use of Mother's Friend during pregnancy robs confinement of all pain and danger, and insures safety to life of mother and child. This scientific liniment is a god-send to all women at the time of their most critical trial. Not only does Mother's Friend carry women safely through the perils of child-birth, but its use gently prepares the system for the coming event, prevents "morning sickness," and other discomforts of this period.

Cured of Asthma

After 35 years of Suffering.

It will be gratifying to Asthmatic readers to learn that an absolute cure has at last been discovered by Dr. Schiffmann. That the remedy is an effectual one cannot be doubted after perusal of such testimony as that of C. W. Van Antwerp, Fulton, N. Y., who says: "Your remedy (Schiffmann's Asthma Cure) is the best I ever used. I bought a package of our druggist and tried it and one box entirely cured me of Asthma, and I have not had it since. I can now go to bed and sleep all night with perfect comfort, which I have not done before for 35 years and I thank you for the health that I now enjoy. I hope that you will publish this letter, that others may learn of its wonderful virtues." Sold by all druggists at 50c and $1.00. Send 2c stamp to Dr. R. NEWARK Y. M. C. A. HAS THAT MANY MEMBERS.

Committee Still Hustling--Exceptional Advantages That Young Men Should Accept.

The membership of the Newark Y. M. C. A. is now 600. When Mr. Cornell, a member of the committee brought into the Association Monday night two new members he supplied just the number needed, thus marking another epoch in the growth of the local Y. M. C. A. This is especially gratifying because it is the goal towards which the most sanguine of the Association's friends have looked forward for years.

On Friday evening, October 9, the membership committee met in a social and business session and determined that beginning with 575 their membership at that time as a foundation, to raise it to 675 before January 1, 1904. The fact that in the intervening ten days twenty-five new members have been brought in shows that they are in earnest and that some good work is being done.

The association is now offering to its members larger privileges than it has in any previous time during its history, and succeeding years will see these privileges constantly increasing. No young man in Newark can do a better thing than to secure for himself a membership. And no lover of good can help but rejoice in the onward march of this great institution that stands for better manhood in our city.

VOCAL MUSIC.

The attention of the young men of Newark is again called to the class in vocal music, organized at the Y. M. C. A. Enough have now registered to assure a class. Tonight at 7:30 the class meets for its first lesson. An urgent invitation is extended to all who love music and would like to learn to sing to come in tonight and join the class.

The other classes which meet tonight are English and business correspondence and commercial arithmetic. There is still time for registering for any of the courses, as the classes are just getting well started.

FOOTBALL PRACTICE.

All members of the Y. M. C. A. football team and any others who would care to try for a position on the team are urged to report at the Y. M. C. A. at 7 o'clock sharp tonight, at which time the team will make the run out to the field together. By order of the captain.

GRANVILLE

Mrs. James and Family Move to Newark--Hay and Trolley Rides--Granville Personals.

Granville, O., Oct. 20.--Mrs. O. A. James and family, well-known residents of Granville, have removed to Newark, where they will make their home. For several years past they resided in the house on West College street, owned by Mr. Martin James, who determined that they should have a fitting send-off. He, therefore, gave an oyster supper to Mrs. James and family and a number of her friends and relatives on last Saturday evening, which was in the nature of a farewell party. There were twenty-five or thirty persons present and all had a most enjoyable time. There were games of all kinds and music by the graphophone. A number of records in Welsh and English were taken, among them being the closing hymn, "Nearer, My God, to Thee." Mrs. James and her estimable family carry with them to their new home the best wishes of all their Granville friends.

Hay rides and trolley rides have afforded much diversion and a considerable amount of merriment among the students during the past week. There is a spirit of contention for excellence to a high degree displayed by the several classes.

Miss Mabel Church, of Columbus, spent Sunday with friends here.

Harris Owen, of Columbus, spent Sunday here with his father, R. J. Owen.

The usual Y. W. C. A. meeting was held in Recital Hall on Monday evening. Miss Faith Tomeroy led the meeting, which was a very helpful one.
